Friday Noon Mass Honors Patroness

A special Mass will be celebrated Friday to commemorate the feast of the Immaculate Conception. The feast actually is Saturday, but in order that there might be a unified student expression of honor and praise, the Mass is being celebrated at noon on Friday in the student lounge.

Fr. John J. Kelley, S.J., executive vice-president, will be the celebrant, and Fr. Gordon E. Toner, S.J., student chaplain, will deliver the sermon.

Features at the Mass will be a special altar for the occasion, with the S.U. double quartet singing during the Mass. Also featured will be an honor guard composed of S.U. club officers.

OUR LADY OF the Immaculate Conception is the primary patroness of S.U. and also patroness of S.U.'s Sodality.

University Matches $300 MUN Allotment

By MIKE PARKS

The most controversial piece of legislation to come before the student senate this year was finally acted upon at its meeting last Sunday. By a roll call vote of 12-8, the senate voted an appropriation of $300 to the Model United Nations Club.

AWS Honors Karen Steen For 'Outstanding Work'

Karen Steen, a sophomore majoring in education from Bellevue, has been selected AWS Girl of the Month for December. Nominated by both the Spurs and the Town Girls for her "outstanding work" in both organizations, Karen is also chairman of the CCD Mental Hospital Committee and a member of the AWS Co-ordinating Cabinet.

WITHIN SPURS, she is chairman of the Retreat Committee. Also she is taking care of all arrangements for the Spur Christmas Party, made baked goods for the Spur bake sale and tea, and worked on Homecoming and frosh elections.

In the Town Girls, Karen is Eastside representative and co-chairman of the Homecoming display committee. For the AWS faculty children's Christmas party, Karen has volunteered to make 100 bean bags. "Such a large undertaking is typical of those which she skillfully and competently handles every year," stated Ann MacQuarrie, AWS president.

KAREN WILL wear the Girl of the Month bracelet until January and is eligible for selection as Girl of the Year.

ate approved Jim Bradley's appointment of John Fattorini to fill the vacant junior senate seat. Fattorini was sworn in by Justice Joan Berry of the Judicial Board.

SEN. TIM SULLIVAN, author of the MUN bill which had originally asked $988.80, opened discussion by introducing an amendment reducing the request to $300. He explained that this reduction was made possible by an offer from the Very Rev. A. A. Lemieux, S.J., president of S.U., to match, from University funds any money appropriated to MUN by the senate.

An hour and 40 minutes of tedious and often repetitious debate followed the passage of the amendment.

Soon after discussion began, Sen. Mike Reynolds attempted to force action on the issue. Claiming that student interest was at a peak, he moved to leave the final decision on the bill to the student body by means of a referendum vote. Sen. Paul Hill said that the senate would be shirking its duty by such a move and Reynolds' motion failed.

AS PREDICTED, Reynolds and Sen. Leo Penne led the debate.

Reynolds opened his attack by reading a letter from Dan Regis. Regis, in his letter, while extolling the nature and purpose of the MUN and claiming that more similar organizations are needed on campus, questioned whether or not the senate would be justified in underwriting the expenses of the MUN in the light of past senate decisions.

REFERENCE WAS made to two specific decisions. Last year, the senate refused to appropriate funds to both the Literary-Philosophical Society and the S.U. branch of the National Students Association. Both requests were refused because the money was to be used for convention expenses. It was repeatedly pointed out during the course of discussion that the bulk of MUN's budget is used for convention expenditures.

Those who spoke out in favor of the bill emphasized that Fr. Lemieux's offer to match a senate appropriation was indicative of the stature of the MUN. Sen. Penne claimed that it was unfair to compare the MUN to the groups that were refused money last year. He said that the convention was vitally necessary if MUN is to remain in existence on campus.

TO THOSE WHO claimed that the appropriation would set an undesirable precedent, Penne replied that it would not be logical to render a decision on the present situation on the basis of what might happen in the future. He repeatedly punctuated his comments by reminding the senators that even the opposition acknowledged the value of such organizations as MUN, and thus, the reasonable solution would be to provide the MUN with at least a minimum appropriation. Winter Quarter Dates Scheduled

The Activities Board will meet at 7 tonight in Bannan 112 (first floor conference room) to consider the proposed calendar of activities for winter quarter.

The president or a representative of each campus club should be present, according to Wally Toner, ASSU second vice president.

REQUESTS FOR dates have been received by the Activities Board and considered by a subcommittee which has drawn up a tentative calendar to be approved by the Activities Board. "This is the first time the board has assumed its full duties regarding the awarding of the dates," Toner said. Previously, the decision regarding disputed dates has been left to the student senate. This quarter, however, the senate will only approve or reject the calendar as it is presented by the Activities Board.

The proposed calendar will be presented to the senate at its special senate meeting at noon tomorrow. The senate will not meet on Sunday.

"THERE ARE a few Sunday night openings for movies yet to be filled," Toner said. Requests for these dates should be made at tonight's meeting.

LISTENING HOUR

Act III of "Dido and Aeneas" by Henry Purcell, and selections from "Magnificat" by Johann Sebastian Bach will be featured at the Music Listening Hour tomorrow from 2:10-3 p.m. in Pigott Aud.

Rabbi Jacobovitz:

Hebrew Concept of Messiah

By VALERIE VOLTA

Rabbi Arthur Jacobovitz, director of the Hillel Foundation at the U.W. and faculty member of S.U., explained the Hebrew concept of the Messiah in a lecture in Pigott Aud. Monday. The Rabbi teaches an evening class in Hebrew at S.U. and works in conjunction with Fr. Webster Patterson, S.J., in the teaching of Judeo-Christian Origins I.

RABBI Jacobovitz stated that according to the doctrine of Orthodox Judaism there will be a Messiah. The Messiah will be a human being and a great warrior who will lead the Jewish people to their rightful place as "God's chosen people."

He explained that Judaism does not accept that Christ was God, prophet, good man or liar. However, the Rabbi concluded that a fifth possibility does exist to explain the character of Jesus Christ—that history has attributed to Christ things which he never said or did.

IN FURTHER discussion the Rabbi presented the Judaistic interpretation of two passages from Isaias (Isaias Chapter 53, the suffering servant; Isaias Chapter 7, the division of Israel). Isaias, 53, refers to the suffering Israel, not to Christ, according to the Rabbi.

According to the Rabbi the Hebrews were searching for a Messiah during the persecution and oppressions by Caligula and Nero. During this time there were many who claimed to be the Messiah, but all were proved false and were rejected by the intellectuals of that time. Just so, Christ was readily accepted by the poor and uneducated Hebrews and the Greco-Roman Gentiles, but He too, was rejected by the intellectual Hebrews.

THE LECTURE was followed by a question-answer period in which the Rabbi discussed Hebrew views on the validity of the New Testament, the final end of Christians, suffering and other finer points pertaining to the lecture. In regard to the difference of position between Judaism's and Christianity's concept of the Messiah, the Rabbi stated, "If Judaism has made a mistake on the concept of the Messiah it has made a mistake to be sure. But Judaism does not stand or fall on its concept of the Messiah. However, if Christianity is wrong in its concept of the Messiah then there is no Christianity."

A.P. Takes Christianity From Text Books Into Life

By ROSE MARIE LYONS

Today is A.P. Day! Two hundred members of S.U.'s Catholic Action program, under the direction of Dan Mahoney and his committee members, Carol Balingrud, Ralph Johnson, Sue Jellison and Rose Marie Lyons, have set aside today to inform S.U. students of how they can assume their responsibility as Catholic laymen, by "E.A.P.ing"—that is by enrolling in the Apostleship of Prayer. Posters, pamphlets, LEAP tags, Mass sermons and explanations in theology classes have been provided to inform students and encourage membership in this association.

BECAUSE MORE and more Catholics are realizing their responsibility in the Mystical Body—and because the busy college student may not have the time to fulfill his apostolate in another way—the A.P. has been introduced on the campus. There are no meetings, dues or projects. The one requirement is that the member offer up each day all his actions for the salvation of souls. This is truly apostolic because as members of Christ, when we offer our lives, we are sharing in His act of redemption.

A small booklet, "Facts for the Faculty," issued to the Jesuit instructors to urge their cooperation in this move, points out that the Apostleship of Prayer "... takes Christianity from the textbook and classroom and puts it into everyday life. Students ... make everything they do each day ... a prayer by keeping it in line with God's will."

MEMBERS enrolled in the Apostleship of Prayer receive many special indulgences, and in praying "for the intentions of all our associates," each member is also included in a special way in the prayers of all other members.

Boxes in which students and faculty members may leave their names and phone numbers are placed in the Bannan, L.A. and Pigott bldgs. and the Chieftain. Both students and faculty will be contacted before they are enrolled.

Senate Acts on Bills Despite 'Delay' Rule

The results of the roll call vote were: Yes, Senators Hackett, Michaelson, Penne, Preston, Brockliss, Sullivan, Gilsdorf, Purcell, Denman, Hopps and McMahon; No, Senators Reynolds, Wenker, Murphy, Angvine, Toner, Coffey, Keeley and Fattorini.

BUZZ McQUAID, ASSU treasurer, and Neal Supplee, A Phi O treasurer, answered questions from the senators concerning the alleged failure of A Phi O to fulfill its contract with the ASSU in regard to policing the student parking lot. Evidently, the senators were satisfied with the explanation given as no action was taken by the senate.

Senate standing rule 18 took a beating during the session. The rule (which delays action on a bill to the meeting following its introduction) was suspended three times to consider legislation which required immediate action due to the time factors involved. In the first case, the senate approved the affiliation of S.U.'s People-to-People program with the national organization and the necessary $25 registration fee. Another such rule suspension was required to consider a request by the Pep Parade Committee for $105 to cover operating expenses.

A FIRM ENDORSEMENT of Fr. President's request that the Seattle City Council refuse a 1963 license to the Gramercy Theater, unless it is assured that the theater will halt the showing of nude films, occasioned the third suspension of the rule. All three motions were carried by unanimous vote.

The senate also established a committee to investigate the possibility of gaining interest on the money reserved in the Contingency Fund. A motion to approve the appointment of Dave Boulanger to the chairmanship of the Student Cooperation Committee was withdrawn when it was learned that Boulanger had decided not to accept the position.

THERE will be a special session of the senate tomorrow at 12:15 p.m. in the Chieftain conference room to consider a request for additional reserved seating for the Pep Club at basketball games. The senate will at this time be asked to approve the activities calendar for winter quarter to be presented by the Activities Board. This will be the last senate meeting of the fall quarter.

Fr. Dunne:

"We—Our Brother's Keeper"

By KAETHE ELLIS

"By being excessively preoccupied with a war which, should it materialize, we must certainly lose, we are in serious danger of losing another war in which we are already engaged," stated Fr. George H. Dunne, S.J., in his speech on "Catholic Social Doctrine and World Peace" at 8 p.m. in Bellarmine Hall dining room last Thursday.

FATHER COMMENTED that today our country has stockpiled nuclear weapons "with a destructive force equivalent to tens of TNT for every human being on the face of the globe" in anticipation of a thermonuclear war with the Soviet Union, "a war in which everyone would be the loser." Yet we are doing nothing, Father continued, about the other war which is being fought today in Latin America, Africa and many parts of Asia—the war with Communist doctrine.

According to Fr. Dunne, many people assume that the communists are planning to fulfill their avowed purpose, conquest of the world, by military aggression. "This," said Fr. Dunne, "is an erroneous and dangerous assumption. Revolution, not war, is the way in which communism will rise to power." These revolutions will occur when certain conditions favorable to revolution develop, and the communists will do everything in their power to further these conditions, stated Father.

THESE CONDITIONS, which exist in many parts of the world today, must be alleviated by us in order to win the war of the social revolution. At this point, Christian social principles necessarily come into the picture, he continued.

Throughout history, Father stated, Christians have "clung to the shell of Christian practices while denying its soul" by appearing to thwart change. By fearing change, they have completely denied, distorted or ignored Christian social principles, Father concluded.

A SOCIAL STRUCTURE, such as that in Latin America, in which a handful of the rich control 80 per cent of the land, the government and the wealth, is against all basic Christian principles. Fr. Dunne emphasized that this type of society "is an unrelieved evil and should be destroyed.

"Whether we should become involved in these matters is not a matter of option with us," said Fr. Dunne. "We are, whether we like it or not, our brother's keeper."

Thus, Father thinks, the fight against Communist doctrine demands a revitalization of Christian social principles, a smashing of the obsolete social structures of this world and the expenditure of a great deal of our wealth, talent and energy.

"THE MOMENT the thermonuclear bombs begin to fall we have lost both war and peace," reiterated Fr. Dunne. "On the other hand, even though by some unlikely good fortune we manage to be spared this dread Armageddon, we shall still have lost if we fail to win the social revolution which boils and bubbles in the volcanic world about us."

Fr. Dunne also discussed the impossibility of justification for war within the Christian conscience. The lecture was followed by a question and answer period.

WE BELIEVE Standing Rule 18 to be the most intelligent and farsighted move yet. To reverse this action now would be to handicap seriously the interests of both student body and student government. We hope senators will think twice before making a rash move of this sort. We also hope that students who care about the future of student government will carefully eye this situation and protest immediately if legislation proposing repeal of Standing Rule 18 is even suggested.

Review:

Variety Show '62 Worthwhile

By JAMES NAIDEN

The Fall Variety Show was presented this past weekend in Pigott Aud. and ran for three successive evenings. Master of Ceremonies was Jim Bradley, who by his jocular mood and pleasing countenance, entertained the audience just as well as any of the performers.

Some of the performances deserve particular mention. The show began with the S.U. pep band and song leaders. The band played "Swanee" while the song leaders fluttered to and fro across the stage. Then, Carol Curcio tossed batons up and down to the tune of "Bill Bailey." The Double Quartet serenaded the audience with "Milk and Honey." This group was very pleasing — presentable with rich voices that blended nicely.

Carroll Collins gave a moving rendition of "Take My Mother Home," a Negro spiritual. Miss Collins wore a lovely white evening gown which lent radiance to her presence. Her voice was warm and soothing, which made for a pleasant respite.

SUE HACKETT played "Revolutionary Etude" by Chopin on the piano. With the proper finesse and grace expected of a pianist, Miss Hackett gave a pleasing, salutary performance.

The Omegas, Janet Barnes, Sue Cherberg and Linda Robinson, were restful to the eyes and pleasing to the ears. They sang "Show Me" and "Gossip," the latter being very timely advice for those who are glib with the tongue. All three girls were very entertaining. They had stage presence, a rare quality for many amateurs.

THE LETTERMEN'S Corps de Ballet provided the audience with a pleasant little interlude of inanity. They were as graceful as dogs on ice skates. Charlie Williams collided with a microphone, thus providing the cue for Ernie Dunston and Eddie Miles to plod across the stage like a pair of wounded elephants. When the music took a lighter note, Dunston led the Chieftains in twisting. It was all very amusing. Miss Corkle, young guest prima ballerina, bounded on stage and presented Dunston with a bouquet of flowers for his efforts. Unfortunately, Jim "Twinkletoes" Preston was missing from the troupe. Doubtless his presence would have inspired the "Dancers" to a higher degree of artistic performance.

Ed Braganza and Jack McGann sang folk songs, with an arresting stage presence and nimble wit, the pair proved to be very entertaining.

LEO PENNE brilliantly espoused his views on the world in general. With biting cynicism, Penne rapped the ROTC program and other vestiges of decadence in his act, "Seven."

The S.U. Special Chorale concluded the show with various tunes from "Brigadoon." Most notable in their performances were Carol Crozier, Tony Longo, Maureen O'Conner, Mike Flaherty and Maureen Murphy. Miss Murphy was particularly entertaining with her Scottish brogue. Daryl Spaduccini accompanied the chorale on the organ, while Linda Ross did the same on the piano.

IN GENERAL, the "Variety Show . . . '62" was well worth the time and money that it cost the audience.

DECK THE HALLS

When you think of Christmas gifts you naturally think of Marlboro cigarettes, leading seller in flip-top box in all fifty states—and if we annex Wales, in all fifty-one—and if we annex Lapland—in all fifty-two. This talk about annexing Wales and Lapland is, incidentally, not just idle speculation. Great Britain wants to trade Wales to the United States for a desert. Great Britain needs a desert desperately on account of the tourist trade. Tourists are always coming up to the Prime Minister or the Lord Privy Seal or like that and saying, "I'm not knocking your country, mind you. It's very quaint and picturesque, etc. what with Buckingham Palace and Bovril and Scotland Yard, etc., but where's your desert?" (Before I forget, let me point out that Scotland Yard, Britain's plainclothes police branch, was named after Wally Scotland and Fred Yard who invented plain clothes. The American plainclothes force is called the FBI after Frank B. Incheliff, who invented fingerprints. Before Mr. Incheliff's invention, everybody's fingers were absolutely glassy smooth. This, as you may imagine, played hob with the identification of newborn babies in hospitals. From 1791 until 1904 no American parent ever brought home the right baby from the hospital. This later became known as the Black Tom Explosion.)

But I digress. England, I was saying, wants to trade Wales for a desert. Sweden wants to trade Lapland for Frank B. Incheliff. The reason is that Swedes to this day still don't have fingerprints. As a result, identification of babies in Swedish hospitals is so haphazard that Swedes flatly refuse to bring their babies home. There are, at present, nearly a half-billion unclaimed babies in Swedish hospitals—some of them well over eighty years old.

But I digress. We were speaking of Christmas gifts which naturally put us in mind of Marlboro cigarettes. What could be more welcome at Christmas time than Marlboro's flavor, Marlboro's soft pack, Marlboro's flip-top box? What indeed would be more welcome at any time of year—winter or summer, rain or shine, night or day? Any time, any season, when you light a Marlboro you can always be certain that you will get the same mild, flavorful, completely comfortable smoke.

There are, of course, other things you can give for Christmas besides Marlboro cigarettes. If, for example, you are looking for something to give a music lover, let me call to your attention a revolutionary new development in phonographs—the Low-fi phonograph. The Low-fi, product of years of patient research, has so little fidelity to the record you put on it that if, for instance, you put "Stardust" on the turntable, "Melancholy Baby" will come out. This is an especially welcome gift for people who have grown tired of "Stardust".

Merry Christmas to all and to all a good night.

Campus Crossroads

The Vanguard, (Portland State University)

Only 15 per cent (249 students) of the freshman class went to the polls to elect class officers. This is one of the worst turnouts for a class election at Portland State.

The Trail (University of Puget Sound)

A new mechanical charging machine was installed in the library just before Thanksgiving. Students will no longer be required to sign their name and address, but will only present their library cards when charging out books. In addition, a new book return has been installed outside the main entrance so that library materials can be returned at any time. Books must be returned before 9 a.m. on the date they are due. The library also grants a three-day grace period on all overdue books (except reserves). An overdue book returned within the period is not subject to fine. The fine rate for students holding materials beyond this period will include the first three days.

The News (Temple University)

One of the newly elected freshman class representatives has suggested that frosh elections be moved from October to February so that freshmen will have a greater opportunity to familiarize themselves with class members and issues. Only 735 students voted — "a bad turnout," said an elections committee co-chairman.

The Fordham Ram (Fordham University)

A university-wide committee of publications' editors and class officers has presented the student body with a program designed to further promote school spirit. The group, which calls itself "The New Spirit," circulated a special four-page newsletter explaining their intent. Members will receive a season's pass for basketball games, a gold-tasseled fez and a membership card, in return for a pledge to support university activities (rallies, concerts, plays, games). The program, a revival of the "Big Spirit" of the 1930's, hopes to overcome the disintegration of school spirit since the mid-1950's. The recent introduction of rugby and bladderball is expected to combat the lack of campus enthusiasm since the "collapse of football." Membership fee is $6.50.

The Santa Clara (Santa Clara University)

A raging battle on campus seems to be brewing between the boys and the girls. The student senate seems intent on dissuading song girls from "swaying and bobbing at Bronco athletic functions." While certain factions of the student body feel that these loosely-clad women cause "distraction from the athletic event," some of the girls themselves feel that these more reserved male students are "crazy."

The Aquinas (University of Scranton)

A panel on campus recently pointed out that the educational level of the average movie-goer is still at the point where the average man has not yet developed a sound base for aesthetic judgement. The panel went on to further point out that this deficiency manifests itself in the production of second-rate trash and the rejection at the box office of artistic films.

The Phoenix (Our Lady of the Lake College)

The Lonergan Chapter of the Student National Education Association gave a "testing party" recently. As a new twist in obtaining funds for a scholarship, members of the club administered guidance tests in a local high school. A $1,000 scholarship will be awarded to a high school graduate planning a teaching career.

The topic for discussion in the third seminar discussion at this year's leadership conference was Student Government. The delegates dealt with three specific divisions: Judicial Board, Activities Board and Financial Board.

DISCUSSION regarding the Judicial Board centered around the need for and value of such a board. One seminar concluded that S.U.'s Judicial Board is feasibly and workably constituted as it is. A second seminar, while recognizing the necessity of the board, urged that it extend its powers to become more effective. Delegates in another seminar called for the disbanding of the board as it now exists. The value of the Judicial Board was accepted, but the delegates suggested, first, that it be coordinated with the already existing Election Board, and second, that new members be appointed to the Judicial Board each year. Another suggestion, defeated as impractical, was that the position of Attorney General be added to the ASSU governmental system.

ON THE QUESTION of whether the student senate should decide Activities Board calendar date conflicts, one seminar voted 13 to one to eliminate this procedure. The group felt that an arbitration board, within the framework of the Activities Board itself, should solve such conflicts. Other seminars preferred that awarding of disputed dates continue to be left to the senate, if the standing committees of the Activities Board are unable to come to a decision. A further suggestion was that activities be planned for smaller groups so that it would be possible to schedule more than one such event on the same date.

SEMINAR DISCUSSION of the Financial Board dealt mainly with supervision of club finances. It was suggested that club accounts be checked at least once a quarter, (some delegates called for bi-monthly checking). The delegates agreed that clubs which are consistently irresponsible, through their own fault, should be subject to disciplinary action, involving possible revocation of their charters. However, it was noted that there may be extenuating circumstances depending on the type of club and type of debt, as well as the club's plans for repayment of the amount incurred. In one seminar, the suggestion was made that a loan program be set up in the ASSU budget for the benefit of new clubs and clubs having no previous treasury balance.

REGARDING THE actual organization of the Financial Board, the only improvement urged was a more specific statement of the powers and duties of the ASSU treasurer.

It was agreed that the clubs themselves must have competent treasurers, and it was noted that Buzz McQuaid, treasurer, would organize an orientation course to acquaint all club treasurers with the proper procedure.

A FINAL POINT was rejection of a proposed S.U. House of Representatives. The delegates considered such an addition an unnecessary complication for matters which can be handled by already existing senate committees.

Playoffs on Friday:

Hoosiers, Boys Tie Grid League

The Boys downed the Tartars yesterday 16-6 and the Hoosiers squeaked past the Wastemakers Friday, 26-22 to tie up first place in two intramural football leagues.

All four teams have won seven games and lost one. Run-off games for the playoffs will be Thursday. The winners of the run-off games Thursday will vie for first and second place in the championship playoffs on Friday. The losers will go after third and fourth spots on that same day.

THE WASTEMAKERS beat the Menehunes yesterday 22-8 to clinch a first place tie in the Eastern League.

Yesterday, Harry Lambro led the scoring attack for the Boys by throwing for two touchdowns and two extra points.

The Boys marched down the field after a Tartar touchdown but were stopped on the Tartar 11-yard line. Boys' captain Bob Neubauer then intercepted a Tartar pass on the 14. On the next play the combination from Lambro to Neubauer clicked for the T.D.

IN THE SECOND half, Lambro threw a ten-yard pass to Jerry Schatz for a touchdown, and again to Schatz for the extra points. The score stood at 16-6.

Friday, the Hoosiers scored first in a wild game that wasn't decided until the last ten seconds. Pat Connolly threw for two scoring plays in the first half and ran over two touchdowns in the second half for the Hoosiers. Frank Gartland and Hugh Antonson were on the receiving end of Connolly's passes.

BILLY MEYER threw two touchdown passes to Pete Ferrai and one to Tom Clare for the Wastemakers.

The clincher came with ten seconds left in the game when Connolly ran 35 yards on fourth down for the winning score. The final score was 26-22 with the Hoosiers on top.

Papooses Win Opener With Highline Squad

By BRUCE WALKER

The S.U. Papooses began their season on a winning note Saturday night as they drubbed Highline J.C. 84-60.

Papoose Coach Clair Markey described the win as "a good team effort that resulted in a fine opening game for the team."

Dick Graul paced the Papooses with a 32-point performance

ALSO HITTING double figures in scoring were forward Fred Trosko with 17 points and guard Rick Mathews with five buckets accounting for 10 tallies. Right behind Mathews came big center Dan Murphy and reserve guard Joe Shephard with nine and eight points respectively.

Highline's Dick Weeks wound up with 24 points as he paced his squad in scoring. The out-classed J.C. quintet led only briefly at the outset and then the Papooses grabbed the lead and were never overtaken after that.

AFTER halftime, when the score read 42-27, Markey substituted freely with all his charges seeing game action. The Papooses hit 58 per cent of their shots from the field with Graul hitting 75 per cent and Trosko connecting on 60 per cent of his shots.

The Papooses have three games within the next week as they play the preliminaries to the season-opening Chieftain contests. They play Skagit Valley J.C. Friday, Everett J.C. Saturday and Gray's Harbor J.C. Monday. All these games begin at 6 p.m. in the Seattle Civic Ice Arena.
